

Benny Bellson Touring + Audience Insights

PRESENTED BY SYLVAN QUADY FOR BASH
ENTERTAINMENT

Audience Demographics

THE BASE

Benny's audience is 75% female. The core audience (almost 65% of his general fanbase) is women aged 18-34. This demographic tends to be loyal and is a good audience to target in terms of concert tickets and merchandise. The 13-17 segment is also important as a growth indicator for future streaming.

65% of Benny's listeners are white/caucasian, with a mostly equal dispersion of Asian, Latino, and black/African American listeners following. This tells us his music travels through typically white indie/alternative areas in media such as editorial playlists and algorithm discovery, both on streaming platforms and social media, especially for/between young white women

TAKEAWAYS

This is one of the most clearly defined audiences in the BASH roster: young, female, and discovering him through algorithm discovery and indie pages/playlists rather than through any specific cultural or regional community. This means his growth potential is not capped geographically whatsoever, but rather demographically.

Geographic Summary and Cities for Tour

OVERVIEW (VIA CHARTMETRIC)

Besides LA at #1 and NY at #4, we see a ton of international cities (Warsaw #2, Berlin #3, London #5, etc.) making up Benny's top cities. Although unimportant for a US tour, this is noteworthy and something to keep an eye on, as the emerging global market for indie R&B is growing with younger audiences and Benny has significant traction there.

RECOMMENDED CITIES FOR TOUR

1. Los Angeles - non-negotiable (#1 city by raw numbers)
2. NYC (+Brooklyn) - his 2nd largest US market
3. Chicago - #6 in his top cities globally, consistent across the BASH roster
4. Seattle - strong indie music culture, aligns with his sound and audience profile, confirmed as a top city by Chartmetric (Portland added along the way, depending on logistics)
5. Denver - also confirmed and houses a young, indie R&B heavy market
6. Dallas + Houston - both are top 20 cities for Benny, also coincides with other BASH artists. Austin could be added as an extension due to young population and indie affinity there
7. Phoenix - young audience, mirrors his demographic profile
8. Chico - hometown, high affinity and loyalty, and it would be a special cultural moment for Benny's most loyal fans. The return would likely outweigh the cost dramatically.

Brand Affinity

- Best Logical Choices:
 - European Fashion & Streetwear - Benny's global traction makes him an attractive option for international brands looking to increase their US market share via partnership.
 - Indie Lifestyle & Outdoor Brands - think brands like Patagonia. His sound and audience reflect the kind of young women who buy from socially conscious, aesthetically driven purchasing behavior.
- Reaching further, but could work:
 - College-oriented brands - because of Benny's audience's heavy concentration in the 18-24 age range, brands targeting college students could find a partnership beneficial
- Another Recommendation:
 - Pushing for playlist placement could be the best ROI for Benny, given how his current audience was likely built. Maybe looking to headline smaller indie R&B playlists or placement on larger ones could drive growth exponentially
